The SCI (Science Citation Index) and the SSCI (Social Science Citation Index) are indexes developed by the Institute of Scientific Information (ISI) to reflect the number of times that articles are cited and are used to calculate the impact factor of journals. According to a computer search in the ISI Web of Science, in June 2015, Dr. de Leon's scientific publications have been cited in the literature more than 7,000 times. Hirsch (PNAS 102:16569-72, 2005) proposed the "h" index to summarize a researcher's articles. Dr. de Leon's "h" index is 43 (he has at least 43 articles with ≥ 43 citations).

C PSYCHOPHARMACOLOGY BOOK IN POWERPOINT

de Leon J. Training Psychiatrists To Think Like Pharmacologists”

Course to teach pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics of psychiatric drugs using many real psychiatric patient cases.

The course is placed <http://inhn.org/home/courses/jose-de-leon-training-psychiatrists-to-think-like-pharmacologists.html> at a web page developed by INHN (International Network for the History of Neuropsychopharmacology).

The 2015 psychopharmacology course has 14 theoretical lectures and 20 cases. Most of these cases have already been published in peer-reviewed journals.

D) BOOKS (AUTHOR):
